OBJECTIVES THE CONFERENCE

Teachers are supposed to be in one of the noblest profession. Their job involves high dedication and morally upright personality as they are seen as nation builders and creator of potential human resources of the country. It is rightly said by Kothari Commission that destiny of a nation (India) shapes up in its classroom. It is also true that today in the era of science and technology and ICT laden education system the task of teacher as a facilitator has become more challenging. His resourcefulness is always essential to satisfy the inquisitiveness of the 21st century child. Enlightened, emancipated, encouraged and empowered teachers lead children and communities in their march towards better and higher quality of life. Teachers have crucial role to play in preparing young people not only to face the future with confidence but also to build it with purpose and responsibility. The new challenges facing education, to contribute, to development, to help the child understand and to some extent come to terms with the phenomenon of globalization and to foster social cohesion must be met from school onwards. Teachers are thus rightly said as human engineers developing human resources. St. Xavier's College of Education, Patna in collaboration with AIAER has thus chosen this present topic for the conference.
